Payment in full is expected at the conclusion of each session unless other arrangements have been made in advance. If we can verify your insurance benefits at the time of service and your deductible has been met, we will accept the amount (your co-pay) your insurance will not cover and bill them for the remaining amount. This also applies to all HMO's with a specific co-pay. In the event that your insurance company would deny payment at any time, payment for services provided then become your responsibility. Failure to pay for charges may result in the account being sent to Collections. For those whose insurance coverage or financial status does not allow payment in full, alternate payment schedule needs to be discussed with the clinician and a specific payment plan arranged with the office manager/clinician.

Initial_____I have read and understand these policies and agree to accept them.

Confidentiality Disclaimer:

Understand that you are financially responsible for any remaining balance on your account once reasonable efforts to collect from your insurance company have been made. However, failure to respond in a reasonable manner to any accumulated debt on your account may result in involving our attorney. Should this occur we will follow all HIPAA requirements to protect your confidentiality. Your name, address, account balance, and other identifying information necessary to the collection procedures may be legally released to collect payment of debt. Your signature below indicates that you understand this possibility.

Initial_____I have read and understand these policies and agree to accept them.

Missed Appointments:

A specific time has been reserved exclusively for you when a therapy appointment is made. Therefore, notice is required 24 hours in advance of the scheduled appointment should you find you would be unable to keep your appointment. Appointments canceled with less than 24-hour notice will result in an assessment at a rate of a half the fee charged for a full session. Should you fail to keep a scheduled appointment without advance notice (no show); a fee will be assessed at the full session rate. It should be understood that insurance policies will not cover costs incurred due to missed appointments. Your signature below indicates your understanding of this process.
